Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Acknowledgements

The Applicants amendment filed on October 22, 2007 is acknowledged, Claims 13 and 17-20 remain pending.

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on October 22, 2007 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 13, and 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nummelin et al (US Patent 6,308,164) in view of Abbruzzese et al., (US Patent No 5,557,515) and further in view of Gundewar et al (US Patent 6,381,610).

As per claim 13,

Nummelin et al ('164) discloses A method of electronically authorizing or repudiating an electronically processed task, comprising:

storing a plurality of elements forming tasks into a database subsequent to an electronic authorization or repudiation of said tasks;(Column 7, lines 24-37 [validating information input into specific fields.... Input or update project data])

each of the said plurality of elements including a user identifier requesting authorization and /or repudiation reasons. (Figure 2, Column 8, lines 37-59 [the secondary field values may include designation of a organizational department])

retrieving repudiation reasons of elements stored from said database that match elements forming a task to be electronically authorized and a user requesting authorization of said task; (Column 6, lines 37-49 [retrieves status reports for designated operators of equipment i.e authorizer of the task; it is obvious that the task status would be derived from the elements stored in a database.,also generally disclosed by Figure 2,3; Figure 2 discloses task elements in database, Figure 3 discloses verification/authorization process.])

Nummelin et al ('164) does not explicitly disclose “and displaying said retrieved repudiation reasons of said elements stored and retrieved repudiation reasons for the user in association with said elements of the task to be electronically authorized” Abbruzzese et al ('515) discloses “and displaying said retrieved repudiation reasons of said elements stored and retrieved repudiation reasons for the user (Figure 9A, column 64, lines 56-67, column 65, lines 1-67 [the diary function shows alerts for items that need processing, table LVII has a field for “reason” i.e. repudiation reason.]) in association with said elements of the task to be electronically authorized “.(Column 65 – lines 29-67) It would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the Nummelin et al ('164) method with the Abbruzzese et al ('515) method in order to detect when a case needs additional managerial attention.

Nummelin et al ('164) does not explicitly disclose " wherein of said elements forming the task to be electronically authorized an element among said elements displayed is designated as a checkpoint is provided for review based on a number of said retrieved repudiation reasons for the task and the user" Gundewar et al. ('610) discloses " wherein of said elements forming the task to be electronically authorized an element among said elements displayed is designated as a checkpoint is provided for review based on a number of said retrieved repudiation reasons for the task and the user ". (Column 5 – line 14 through column 6, line 4) It would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the Nummelin et al ('164) method with the Gundewar et al. ('610) method in order to detect when a project fails to meet projected goals.

Claims 17- 20 are in parallel with claim 13 and is rejected for at least the same reasons.

Response to Arguments

The Applicant's arguments filed on October 22, 2007 have been fully considered.

Applicants respectfully submit that Nummelin does not disclose or suggest at least the feature of "retrieving repudiation reasons of elements stored from said database that match elements forming a task to be electronically authorized and a user requesting authorization of said task", as recited in claim 13.

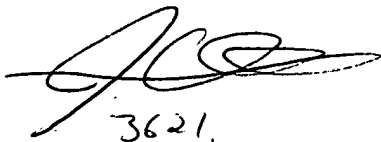

The Examiner responds that this feature is disclosed as cited above; Column 6, lines 37-49 and generally disclosed by Figure 2,3; Figure 2 discloses task elements in database, Figure 3 discloses verification/authorization process.
